It is with great pleasure that I am writing this letter of recommendation for Anise Romo. I know her as the bright, exuberant, and innovative student who from the first day of my 7th grade writing class to the last day of my 9th grade English class demonstrated inquisitiveness, talent, and drive: her sense of wit, ingenuity, and immeasurable zest should be copyrighted! She is a charming young lady with a passion for hard work, single-mindedly driven to achieve all that she sets her sights on. Anise, for me, has become an enduring representation of what an honorable, determined, and authentic young lady can be.

Anise is a go-getter: when she wants something, she does whatever it takes to achieve it. She prepares herself for a successful future by taking on a rigorous schedule, and she does not fail to achieve at the highest level. This year, she scored highly proficient in English, algebra, and geometry on the state's AZMerit. She has been recognized by ASU's Barrett's Honor's program as a summer scholar and received a full scholarship to the program in the summer of 2018. Not only has she taken every honors course that has been offered in her academic journey thus far, but she has also served as the National Junior Honor Society President in 2018. Anise has done with aplomb what many other students might struggle to do: she is a three-sport athlete in softball, volleyball, and basketball all the while maintaining a 4.0 grade point (4.7 weighted). Anise is a true role-model to her classmates, and this year she won the "Character Matters" essay contest where she was recognized for exceptional writing as well as her thoughtful insight into the importance of participation in athletics at Canyon View High School.

Her skill as an athlete cannot be overstated, either. She pushes herself and the teams that she participates on toward greatness. Anise is a born leader who naturally brings those around her together to work toward a common vision. Friends and acquaintances are drawn to Anise for her tenacity and insight, so it is not surprising that she was awarded the most inspirational player from 2015-2018 on her club softball team. She has the capability to bring focus and encouragement to her team and lead them in the direction they need to go.

I will always think about Anise, though, for her affectionate smile and her caring heart. If someone is in need, she will be there to help find the solution. Beyond her ability to problem solve and achieve at the highest level, she has the ability to empathize; she is wise beyond her years.

It is with my highest regard that I submit this letter of recommendation for Anise. Without question, she is the whole package: she is dedicated, industrious, and intelligent, and for these reasons and more, I highly recommend her for any opportunity that lies ahead.

Sincerely,

Nicole Welding
